

MEAT SUPPLY AGAIN CURTAILED

Railroad Situation Has Caused Packers To Cut Down Shipments and Local Butchers are Told No More Western Beef Will Come For Week—Few Days Supply Left.

stock is rapidly being exhausted and depend upon local supply which is not sufficient.

One of the largest shops in town

This scarcity of meat is not a local condition but is general over the country in the smaller towns where there is little storage capacity.

The proprietor of one of the largest meat markets in town today said that he would be able to take of his trade for several days as he had purchased a large amount of meat some time ago in New York and had kept it stored there, having stored there, having it sent up by boat. However the packers in New York city refused to sell more meat out-of-town dealers as they prob-

"Right! Let Her Come!"

It gives real satisfaction to park a car smoothly, without having the engine stall as you creep forward and back, fitting her into narrow quarters.

Polarine makes this easy. It assures both power and control. This standard oil for all motors locks the explosive force of the fuel in the cylinders till it has done its work. This enables you to maneuver with ease and accuracy.

Polarine

gives you a responsive, spry, powerful motor that runs quietly and with little vibration. Using Polarine you'll have fewer fouled spark plugs or other carbon troubles. For transmissions and differentials use Polarine Gear Oil. Sold wherever you see the red, white and blue Seesay Sign.

A PLAIN CITIZEN INVESTIGATES

A newspaper man, in one of New York's communities having heard tales of varying prices for Liberty Bonds, decided to investigate. He took a $100 third issue, 4 1/2 per cent bond and offered it for sale at a bank. There he was offered the list price in that day's quotation which was $90.17. The bank would also redeem the attached interest coupons totaling $7.86, making the entire sum of $98.03.

Since his quest was purely for information, he refused this offer, and next presented his bond to a well-known legitimate brokerage firm dealing in such securities. It made the same offer as the bank, with a fee of fifty cents for handling.

Next the investigator visited a cigar store which displayed a price quotation board in its window, but the proprietor would give only $96.57 for the bond with its interest coupons. Thence the quest went on down the line of small dealers and pawnbrokers, the prices offered gradually diminishing till the lowest one being $82, which the pawnbroker claimed was "about the current quotation," though it was in reality $7.17 less than the list price for the bonds without coupons. Having learned what he wanted to know, the inquisitive soul went home and put his bond away, safely.

These figures and this experience might be duplicated in almost any community, and amply prove the wisdom of the advice offered by a federal bank official: "Sell Liberty Bonds only if necessary and then deal only with banks or legitimate brokerage concerns."

SPECIAL SESSION SUPERVISORS

The board of supervisors will meet in special session at their rooms in the court house Wednesday evening, June 23, for the purpose of opening bids for the building and construction and the furnishing of all materials and labor to be performed in relation thereto of a brick hospital for the Ulster county poor, to be located at New Paltz. The drawing and specifications were drawn by Myron S. Teller, architect. The entire work is to be let under one general contract, and the names of every sub-contractor shall be submitted with each proposal and bid. The contractor will be required to furnish a sum equal to the amount of his bid for the faithful performance of his contract. Contractors desiring to submit proposals may obtain a copy of the contract, specifications, general conditions of the contract, plans and the bond required from Henry R. DeWitt, clerk of the board of supervisors, upon the payment of the sum of $10, which amount will be refunded upon the return of the contract and the plans in good condition. The members of the committee in charge of the construction of the proposed county hospital are Lester L. Legendoff, Charles C. Upright, James H. Heaton, Charles H. Beaver and Lemuel Bogart.

Wilbur Feels Want Games.

LONDONDERRY FIGHT RENEWED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Belfast, June 23.—One person was killed and several others wounded in another outbreak of street fighting between Unionists and Sinn Feiners at Londonderry during the night.

The fresh outbreak of hostilities followed a brief lull Tuesday afternoon.

The fighting was particularly violent and covered a wide area of the city. Several businesses were burned. Sniping continued in intensity late Tuesday and a woman was killed. Fires were started by bomb explosions. British troops that were put on guard around property owned by Unionists were sniped continuously by hidden Sinn Feiners.

Word received from Londonderry at 9:30 o'clock said that fighting was in progress at that hour between Sinn Feiners and Unionists from behind barricades surrounded with sandbags. The casualties were reported to be heavy.

There has been much looting at Londonderry during the past twenty-four hours, particularly in buildings occupied by saloons. An attack against the Londonderry College building was repulsed. Irish volunteers were said to have attacked the residential district where many Unionists live and women and children fled in panic.

"The reign of terror" is apparently spreading. Armed Irish volunteers entered the fray at Londonderry early today.

The Carstoner in this city (the Unionist followers of Sir Edward Carson) held a meeting to debate the advisability of marching to Londonderry to help out the Unionists.

The situation here is tense with excitement. It is admitted that the whole Ulster province is on the brink of civil war. The temper of the Ulsterites is shown by the following extract from an editorial in the Northern Whig:

"The government seems to be afflicted with creeping paralysis. It is continues as weak as it is at present. Ulstermen will show that they are strong enough for the task at hand."

General Carter Campbell has assumed command of the British troops at Londonderry. He has slightly more than a battalion under his command, but two more battalions were being held in readiness in Belfast for instant use.

MARRIAGE STORIES DID NOT AGREE

Court Testimony Conflicted With Answers to Questionnaire, So Perjury Indictment Followed.

The indictment which was returned by the Rockland county grand jury on Monday against Frederick Schock for perjury, which was announced in The Freeman's telegraphic dispatches on Tuesday evening, is the outgrowth of Schock's trial recently in that county on a charge of abandonment of two children which at the trial he swore were not his, but which he claimed as his own at the time he filled out his questionnaire in order to avoid military service under the draft law. At the time of making out the questionnaire, Schock also swore that he was married, which he denied on his trial recently.

Schock did not abandon his wife, who before her marriage to him last September in Brooklyn, was Helen Schick, daughter of Alderman George Schick of this city, and as she does not believe him guilty of the various charges against him, she is standing by him. They have had no difficulties or differences, according to Corporation Counsel William D. Brinley, who has represented Schock in two criminal proceedings.

Schock was married to Miss Schick in September of last year. He was employed as a fireman on the West Shore railroad at various times for a number of years and later was promoted to engineer. He is well thought of among the men with whom he has worked. Prior to his marriage, he had made his home with an aunt, who is two years his junior. According to Schock, he boarded with her, and helped to defray her expenses and those of her two children, whose ages are 5 and 4 years respectively. They lived at various places, and last August were living at Blauvelt, Rockland county.

On January 5th of this year, Schock was indicted by the Kings county grand jury for bigamy, the indictment alleging that at the time of his marriage in September he already had a wife living. The indictment was found in Kings county because his marriage in September had taken place there, and the complaint against him was made by his aunt, who claimed to be his common-law wife. Mr. Brinley represented Schock and on January 15th the indictment in Kings county was dismissed on motion of the district attorney.

Several weeks ago Schock was indicted in Rockland county on complaint of his aunt, the indictment charging abandonment of the two children, of whom he is alleged to be the father, and which is a criminal offense. He was tried before Judge Tompkins and was acquitted. Mr. Brinley, the jury convicted Schock, and he was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 or stand committed to the Rockland county jail for eight months, and also to contribute $2.50 per week towards their support until they are 14 years old. During the trial it was brought out that in making a claim for exemption under the draft, instead of basing his claim on his employment as a common-law father, he had claimed exemption by reason of dependency of two children, and had claimed that he was married. Schock testified that he did not remember the statements which had been made in the questionnaire, or of having signed and sworn to it.

He denied that he was married to his aunt, or that he was the father of her children. The names of the children are given in the indictment as Thomas Stanley Schock and Louise Martha Schock, and the abandonment was alleged to have occurred on August 22, 1913. It was about two weeks later that Schock was married to Miss Schick.

According to The Freeman's telegraphic dispatch, District Attorney Morton E. Lebow of Rockland county intended to move the perjury case for trial today, or failing in that, to ask the Federal authorities to proceed against Schock for evading the draft. District Attorney Lebow, according to the dispatch, announced that there had been considerable lying on the witness stand in the Supreme court and in the Rockland county court lately and he hoped to make an example of Schock.

Joe Tomkins, who formerly has been such a zealous prosecution that he has to learn to use some different kind of tools than he does in a golf game.

CLASS OF 1920 BIDS FAREWELL

serely, and ready to give their all, these "fads" were innocently musing their forces to rob us of the hard and well earned fruits of victory. The people caught unaware were inclined to view the whole movement "tolerantly," largely, because they thought it would be short lived.

The speaker defined Bolshevism as radical Socialism put into practice. The government in the Bolshevik state resembles that of a continual state of war. Freedom of speech and press is suppressed with an iron hand; whatever action is deemed necessary for the good of the state is taken, whether it is favored by the majority or not.

The formation of labor unions was mentioned as one of the means of furthering the doctrine of Bolshevism. Once under control of the state, general strikes are called with the prime purpose of wrecking the government.

To fight Bolshevism, the speaker said in closing, that it was incumbent upon every loyal citizen who loves liberty to lose no opportunity in public or private utterance or action to combat with all the energy of the most sacred principles of government. There can be no half way positions. The Bolsheviks themselves say that he who is not with them is against them. Every conscientious man must face this challenge for himself and choose accordingly. One must be prepared either to throw in one's lot at all sacrifice, with the red revolution or to exert all one's efforts to oppose it.

"An American Duty"

Moulding the immigrant into a good American citizen is the "American Duty." This was the subject of the essay presented by Miss Florence E. Joyce. People in this country forget all the noble history, the great statesmen, poets and artists of the country from which these people come. We forget the magnificent cities and interesting medieval towns left behind, and we are likely to think of them only in the squalid East side tenement or in the prairie shack. A greater sympathy in the newcomers and a more active interest in them must be taken by the American people, and this can only be awakened by a greater knowledge of the foreigner.

The immigrants to America of today were divided by the speaker into three main groups. The Jews, the Slavs and the Italians.

The Jew has no land that he can call his own, yet he keeps up his religion and his practices even under persecution. Back in Russia, America became their dream. They heard that it was no disgrace to work in America at a trade; workmen and capitalists were equal; the cobbler and the teacher had the same title, "Mister"; and all the children, boys and girls, had the same chances for education. America is their hope and when they finally come it is with great joy in their eyes.

The Slav is hard to characterize since so many have remained separated. Although conditions are favorable in some parts of Slavish territory, they are unbearable in others. The speaker cited the hardships which these people underwent at the hands of Austria, Germany and Russia. These people have looked with longing eyes at the Land of Promise, read poetry, and therefore they leave it alone.

Although the Slav world is somber and dull, Italy is bright and joyous. Although the hardships and persecutions are not felt there, yet the hope of many Italians is to come to America.

Most of these immigrants come to these shores in the steerage. They are happy and bright at the thought of soon reaching America, yet their spirits soon sag as Ellis Island with its uncertainties comes into view. There are many stringent examinations through which the immigrant must go. But once in the country they adapt themselves quickly to the customs of the new land. They gradually become Americanized, and with this comes the wish that their children might have the best the schools offer.

The speaker admitted that some foreigners come here not for the benefits which America has to offer, but to destroy the government. The percentage she said was small, but the individual offenders should be dealt with.

The new Americans, said she, certainly presents a radical problem, but the problem is largely one of assimilating power on our part. The real problem is whether the American is strong enough and not so much whether the foreign material is of the proper quality. This is the time to bring forward the best there is in American ideals; for as we present ourselves to this mass of people, so it will become.

State's Greatest Asset.

E. Tryon Miller spoke on "The Empire State's Greatest Asset." The people of New York, said he, have had the foresight to entrust the best of their forests to a Conservation Commission, whose purpose it is to care for the forests and for fish and game which inhabit them. This commission since 1883 acquired over 1,800,000 acres of mountains, lakes and woods, the common property of all the people of the Empire State.

As illustrations of the mountains' usefulness as watersheds, the speaker spoke of the Ashokan reservoir and that of Glens. Doubtless, said he, the city of New York will soon call for more and the remaining Catskill watersheds, the Rondout, the Catskill and the Neversink will furnish the supply until the mighty lakes of the Adirondacks are employed.

A second of the advantages of the forest regions is the water power of their streams. These rivers are now furnishing 380,000 horsepower of electrical energy. According to the commission, these rivers without destroying their beauty could be converted into an additional 2,000,000 horsepower.

At the present time, perhaps the greatest value of the forest lands lies in their use as recreation fields. Thousands each year flock to the Adirondacks and Catskills to escape the heat and the bustle of the city.

One of the principal difficulties in the path of the commission is the forest fire. These have their origin at times in causes beyond human control, but far too often in carelessness. By constructing towers on the higher peaks, and by its system of wardens and rangers, and by its compulsory service, the state has to a large degree eliminated the fire peril.

The commission has been doing a wonderful work, but it cannot continue it unaided. It needs the support and co-operation of every individual who enters the forest preserve. Let us co-operate with the commission, be careful ourselves, and help teach others to be careful, and preserve this, the Empire State's greatest asset.

Miss Scott on Poets.

Many never wake to the joy and beauty which the poets have taken for their own, said Miss Ruth Scott in her essay on "Poets All." They seem to think that poetry is not for the ordinary man, that it is an art to be read by a few, and therefore they leave it alone.

But in every human being there is a natural love of poetry, an inborn appreciation of what is beautiful and what is rhythmical. In the broad sense all men are poets, and though but few have the ability to set down in measured lines and stanzas the music in their souls, they all show a response to it in a thousand different ways. Why is it that we love the dance with its rhythmical sway? Music can call up in people any emotion, can make them laugh, weep, dance or grieve, with its power can lift their souls into communion with the infinite.

Or you may be those whose hearts, whose minds are attuned to beauty, to all the loveliness of the soul and spirit of word and thought, to the carolings of the birds, the song of the brook. In such there lies untold treasure in Shelley and Byron, in Blake and Hawthorne.

Then there are those who are weary, who have known sorrow, and who need help and comfort. For them there is no finer, no more fitting poetry than that of the Psalmist, who out of bitter experience long ago sang the songs that satisfy the needs of all people.

Last of all comes the poetry of power, the poetry that is the expression of the deep problems of mankind, of life's great tragedies. We have these qualities in some measure in Sidney Laurier's "The Symphony." Here all the instruments in the vast orchestra of life, in their different tongues, give voice to a cry from the very heart of humanity, protesting against the endless grind of the never ceasing search for wealth. And a great appeal goes forth for love in the world.

These are but a few of the many fields of pleasure and comfort that lie open to us, if we will only awake at the cry of the poet, and open our eyes to see them. Then being poets all we may roam these fields at will, thereby enlightening our minds, enriching our hearts and refreshing our souls.

A Talented Musician.

A piano solo, "Deuxieme Mazurka," was then played by Vernon Miller, who proved to be a very talented and accomplished musician. In fact so well pleased was the audience with the playing of the young man that he was forced to respond with an encore, wherein he got one the better of his fellow classmates on the program.

A Fine Speaker.

In Miss Elizabeth Brown, the sixth speaker, some political party is due for a very forceful stump speaker. Miss Brown has all the makings of an orator. Her enunciation was perfect, her delivery masterful. Her subject was "Carry On."

In these days, said she, that test men's souls there is one great subject that is challenging the interest and trying the powers of people in all walks of life. It is not the highest of living. It is not the mysterious which capital and labor rejoice in bestowing upon the man starved between them. It is that mighty power to "carry on" in the face of disappointment, discouragement and failure.

Here is a little girl just starting school. Isn't it as hard for her to learn what one and one are and how to spell cat as it is for a large person to work out the great problems of life? Her struggles come up as formidable and big to her as to the statesman's trying times, to him, her addition and spelling rise as unconquerable before her, but with a great spirit for one so small, she manages with difficulty to grope her way out of the labyrinth of darkness to the light of understanding.

Then there is the mother of a large family. She is the one who must be tried by the greatest tests of courage. It is she who uses every ounce of strength in caring for her children, only to have them leave home. Yet the mother performs all services without a murmur. She is the very embodiment of the great spirit, "carry on."

Here in a hospital lies a man who seems to be strong and well. The nurse tells you that he has lost the use of his legs. This paralysis is slowly creeping up his body and when it reaches his heart, the patient will die. In addition to all this misfortune, word was lately received that the last of his relatives has passed out. One would think he had every reason for complaining of his troubles to others, but the dauntless spirit of this man has conquered. He is every happy and cheerful, never dragging others down with him into the abyss of sorrow and suffering.

Then again there is a business man who after striving for ten terrible years has failed. But this man who has struggled persistently, but in vain, has not failed. He is an overwhelming success in the eyes of the understanding for he has "carried on."

A famous poet had this great spirit, too. For many long, weary, hard years, he waited for the recognition of his marvelous talent. During all this time he never faltered, never gave up the ideal on which he had formed his principles of life. Today this mighty spirit is gradually spreading throughout the world. Each, in turn, is shouldering his heavy burdens and plodding along his pathway, feeling, breathing, "living," "carry on."

Carol Kearney Speaks.

"America's World Leadership" was Carol Kearney's subject. America, said he, is the land of opportunity. Nowhere on earth is there greater field for service to one's fellows than in America.

This thought carries with it an idea which goes deeper than the first. What part is America to play in the future of the world? From every true and loyal American comes the answer, "America is to lead the world."

With that ideal in mind let us consider seriously America's leadership. First, we lead industrially because of the abundance of our raw materials. With our great area and still greater population every material needed can be produced.

Then, too, said the speaker, the intelligence of American labor is a great factor. Everyone knows of the ingenuity of even the average workman. He is ever thinking of new ways and appliances for doing his work more efficiently. Compare the time taken in America to learn to run a machine with that taken by a foreigner. In this connection the speaker said that he had questioned two of Kingston's manufacturers, one an employer of men and the other of women. The first said that it takes a Yankee ten or half as long a time to acquaint himself with any machine as it does a foreigner. The second stated that while a foreign girl requires sixteen weeks to learn to make an American girl with her intelligence, beyond the eighth grade, requires only a few weeks.

The speaker then turned to

Members of Ulster County Bar Endorse Surrogate Walter N. Gill

The undersigned, members of the Ulster County Bar, believe that the public interests will be most substantially subserved by the re-nomination and reelection of the present surrogate, Honorable Walter N. Gill.

During his administration, Surrogate Gill has displayed not only profound legal learning, especially in the department of testamentary law, but also a remarkable degree of common sense in the application of his knowledge to the question in hand.

He has, in addition to this, shown untiring patience in the hearing, and discriminating care and industry in the examination and decision of matters before him.

During his administration, he has been in attendance for the personal transaction of business every day in the week, and not merely on two court days—a practice which has been wonderfully helpful to suitors and attorneys. He has, moreover, found time to perform valuable and needed services, forming no part of his actual official duty, to the great saving of the money of the taxpayers of this county.

In short, it is difficult to see how any public officer could have been more diligent, capable, or efficient.

Above all, his official action has been, at all times, characterized by absolute and unquestioned integrity.

Of late, the best thought has tended to exclude partisan considerations in the selection of judges, and we believe this to be the very case where this principle should be applied. In view of the great qualifications of the present surrogate, it would be a public detriment if a continuance of services so valuable were not availed of.

FACTORY EARNINGS HIGHEST EVER

By Telegram to The Freeman:
Albany, June 23.—After a slight decrease in April on account of the railroad strike, the average weekly earnings of factory workers in New York state again show a substantial increase for May. According to the analysis, the average weekly earnings for all industries in May for 610,000 employees, covered by the monthly payroll reports of 1,648 manufacturers to the bureau of statistics of the state industrial commission, amount to $32.45. This shows a gain of 65 cents over the weekly average of the previous month and is the highest average earning reported so far.

The large increases of the month appear in plants manufacturing building materials, silverware, steel, carriages and automobiles, paper, flour and cereals, meat and dairy products and bakery products. The largest increase is found in the paper industry, where the average weekly earning for May is $32.57, or more than 13 per cent higher than in April.

The important decreases of the month in average earnings appear in men's and women's clothing and in furs and fur goods. In each of these industries the decreases are due to dull business on account of seasonal fluctuations.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

2991—A Simple House Dress With Sleeve in Either of Two Styles. Percale, gingham, chambray, lawn, flannelette and drill are good materials for this style. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length with a band cuff, or loose, at elbow length.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. Width at lower edge is about 2 1/4 yards. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12 cents in coin or 1c and 3c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

A Midsummer Meditation.

As Sancho Panza in Moriana deep Commended him who first invented sleep
Permit a later Sancho still to sing
The wise inventor of a greater thing.
The sage, the soldier, and the poet
And the boisterous youth, the patriarchal dad
Both saint and sinner pause in passing by
To cast on this device a sleepish eye.
For nothing does, or has, or ever can
So tweak the universal heart of man
So fix and hold his deep attention
As a liberal view of this great invention.

Happy the mind that bore the thought
Fair fall the skillful hand that wrought
Accept our tribute, oh departed shade
Of him who first with stockings made.
Happy the moral may be left to those
Who see no beauty in fair cotton hose
But if all I have seen and heard be true
These gentlemen are very scarce and few.

HEADLINE HISTORY WORLD WAR

Copyright 1919, New Era Features.

WHAT HAPPENED JUNE 23.

1915

Lemberg taken by Austro-Germans. Wedge driven far into Russian line, but army escapes intact and is reforming on new front. Berlin and Vienna jubilant at victory. French charge routes Turkey and wins Turkish fort in Dardanelles. Germans gain on west front. Take hill 631 at Blandfort and capture trenches on Meuse heights. Italians shell Marjorath, having captured all Austrian outer defenses.

1916

Germans storm Thiaumont and reach Fleury in terrific assault on three-mile front. Later are driven out of village by furious French counter-attacks in Champagne at Mont Tethi are repulsed by French. Feared in Washington that troops of tenth cavalry, attacked in perilous ambush by Mexicans, are lost. War seems inevitable.

1917

Russian workmen vote to end Duma and State Council by refusing credits. Anti-Government demonstrations by Maximalist party. French expect a German drive on Alsace Hills. Hindenburg has been feeling out the line by strong attacks at various points. Attack by French regains Vauxaillon trenches.

1918

Austrians fleeing across the Piave in disorder after new Italian advance. Line in route from Montebelluna to the sea. Swollen Piave adds to difficulties of trapped Austrians. Losses tremendous. Bolsheviks yield Russia's richest treasures to Germany, ending control of economic relations. British use tanks in successful local attacks at Bucquoy.

1919

Germany accepts terms unconditionally, but protests she yields to "superior force." Last effort for delay ends when Allied Council rejects request for 48-hour respite. Admiral von Reuter in command of German fleet sunk at Scapa Flow to be court-martialed.

SAFETY DON'TS FOR MOTORISTS

Here are a few "safety don'ts" for automobilists, taken from the motor vehicle law booklet just issued by Secretary of State Hugo and which might well be posted on the windshield or in the memory tank of the driver, particularly in view of the many accidents occurring these days through sheer carelessness and with cars as thick as flies on an August morning. Incidentally, the records in Mr. Hugo's office show a registration these days that will bring the year's total close to the 725,000 mark.

Don't forget the pedestrians. They, too, have rights on the streets and highways.

Don't forget to slow down at street and road intersections. It may save a human life.

Don't forget that safety first for yourself and others saves life and limb.

Don't forget to look to the right as well as the left at all railroad crossings.

Don't forget to use extra precautions when you see a child crossing a highway.

Don't forget to examine your brakes for very often these mean life or death.

About all, remember that the A B C of motoring stands for Always Be Careful.

First, last and always, don't take chances.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, June 23.—J. M. Kelder and daughter, Edna, were in Kingston Friday. Edna is still being treated by Dr. Johnston. Kenneth Barley and family and Edna Davis were also in Kingston Friday. Mr. Barley taking them all in his Ford, he recently purchased of A. Haver.

G. M. Smedley of Tillson is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

George A. Chambers is spending some time with his daughters in Kingston.

Wet and cold in this section the past week. All crops are very backward.

Edna Kelder is not improving very rapidly at this writing.

Kenneth Barley and family and Virgil Shurtler and family attended the circus in Kingston Saturday.

CHEAP SEED CORN.

But It Won't Grow Say Amateur's Neighbors.

A New York man who bought a small farm near Lyonsville, town of Marlborough, where he expects to make his home and a living, not wishing to spend the amount asked for seed corn purchased two bushels of cracked corn and has planted it instead. The farmers in his neighborhood say the cracked corn will not grow and that the amateur farmer from New York has thrown away his money. He says a man told him it would grow, and sees no reason why it shouldn't as it is corn anyway. The neighboring farmers are saying "Just wait and see."

BALTIMORE HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Baltimore, Md., June 23.—Fire starting in a building at 37 Hopkins Place, in the same block where the great fire of 1904 had its origin, caused a general alarm to be sent in early today, spread to four adjacent buildings, gave fire fighters a hard battle for several hours and caused a loss which may reach $1,000,000.
The building where the fire started was occupied by a number of wholesale clothing firms.
The fire followed a mysterious explosion. A number of firemen were overcome and received minor injuries.
It was the second disastrous fire in the wholesale district within a space

CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S PARTY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 23.—The national women's party will call a convention of women voters to decide on an election policy. Alice Paul, leader of the militant suffragists, announced here today. The convention will be held in one of three cities—Chicago, San Francisco or Denver—and the call for it will be issued shortly.
The convention will decide whether the party will center its activities in the campaign against the Republicans or endorse a third party movement and send speakers and workers out to fight both the Republicans and Democrats.
Mrs. J. A. Schnitzler of Main street has returned home from Albany, where she has been attending the graduation exercises of the class of 1920 of the State College for Teachers, of which her daughter, Miss Jane Schnitzler, was a member. The class numbered 152 members. Others who attended the commencement exercises included Miss Schnitzler's sister, Miss Marie Schnitzler of the faculty of the Kingston High School, who is also a graduate of the college, and her aunt, Mrs. Jane Ward. Miss Schnitzler will spend two weeks with friends at Skaneateles before returning home.

DRY LAW LD TO TIGHTEN JULY 1

Enforcement of prohibition in New York state after July 1 will be carried on even more rigidly than at present, despite claims that owing to a lack of funds the enforcement department will be reduced to a skeleton organization. This announcement came Tuesday at Albany from Charles R. O'Connor, prohibition director in the state.
A new appropriation of $4,500,000 together with money left from the original appropriation, will be used to finance the enforcement work. An additional sum of $1,000,000 for the sole purpose of placing guards and watchmen on all bonded warehouses will also be available. This provision is a new departure in the enforcement system, and aims to check the wholesale thefts of whiskey from warehouses.
In a letter to Mr. O'Connor, William M. Williams, commissioner of internal revenue, into whose hands the enforcement of prohibition was placed, declared there would be no laxity after July 1, and that the "bureau of internal revenue will continue vigorously to enforce the national prohibition act."

KEENEY'S THEATRE

ONE TO FIVE SEVEN TO ELEVEN

GREAT ADVENTURES OF "THE ADVENTURER."

When, fighting with his back to the wall, he overcomes five swordsmen, and saves Maritana from drunken braves.
When he leaps from the roof of a building to his horse and rides to safety with the woman he loves.
When he sells his faithful horse to gain money on which to live.
When Maritana, spurning the others, rushes to his arms.
When, disobeying the law, he fights a duel with a brutal captain, stabs him to the heart, then gives himself up.
When, sentenced to die by hanging, he is told by Don Jose that if he will marry she shall die the death of a soldier.
When, standing before a firing squad, he fears the reports of their guns and falls face downward on the ground.
When he faces Don Jose, who supposed him dead.
When he is shown an ugly woman who is supposed to be his wife.
When he discovers that the woman he married is the woman he loves.
When he discovers the duplicity of Don Jose and stabs him to the heart after a desperate battle, for the honor of his country.
When he faces the greatest power in his country, his king, and tells him of the intrigue of the prime minister.
When the king, recognizing his true worth, bestows upon him the title of the man he has killed.
When, free and safe, his fortune assured, he puts his arms around the woman he loves and for whom he was ready to die if need be.

PEPTONAWILL HELP YOU

Often times persons who are recovering from sickness have difficulty in recovering their strength. Peptona, our best tonic, will be found very helpful. It contains tonic and strength building principles to aid in enriching the blood, in assimilation of food and in building the general health. It is pleasant to take, and the ingredients are so combined that they are easily assimilated even by very weak stomachs.

DEMS. GATHER IN CONFUSION

Plots and Counter Plots Being Hatched For San Francisco Convention Make Unity Seem Far Distance—Suspicion of Wilson Steers Roller Tactics Will Not Down.

By Telegram to The Freeman
San Francisco, Cal., June 23.—A chicken with its head off stopping around in the back yard knows exactly where it is going compared to the hosts of democracy gathering here to select their candidate for the presidency and build their platform.

With a two-thirds vote necessary for a nomination, instead of only a majority, the series of Chicago pre-convention days has descended upon San Francisco. Bag and baggage, leaving the delegates confused and confounded.

William Jennings Bryan, it is claimed by some, with his "dry" backing, can prevent the nomination of anybody who doesn't suit him. It is possible but 365 votes—a third, thus one, of the total of 1092 delegates—to do this.

But the friends of Governor Edward I. Edwards, of New Jersey, do not overlook the "wets." They will control at least 365 votes in the convention and it is asserted and in their turn, can prevent the nomination of any candidate unfavorable to them.

Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, will form a coalition with W. J. Bryan and precipitate a rough-and-tumble opposition the moment the cohorts of the administration insist upon an out and out ratification of the league of nations plank. And with not a few delegates behind them, many believe they will be able to rally more than a third of the delegates to their side, thus blocking the selection of a Wilsonian nominee.

Aside from the two-thirds rule, the problem of a name is worrying them. They are every bit as hazy as to their chief standard bearer as were the Republicans in Chicago.

Counting W. G. McAdoo and President Wilson—and no list of Democratic presidential possibilities are considered by the party men here to be complete without the names of both—there are pretty nearly a score of candidates, in the open or potential.

Alphabetically there are Bryan, Cox, Clark, Cummings, Davis, Edwards, Glass, Gerard, Hitchcock, McAdoo, Marshall, Meredith, Owen, Palmer, Payne, Simmons and Wilson, to name those most frequently mentioned here.

The McAdoo boom has refused to stay dead. Its corpse perogists in coming back to life. Finished, dead and buried though McAdoo himself insists his boom must be considered, the managers of other candidates now here drumming up support for their men keep on talking of McAdoo. In the same breath they treat him as a dead one and yet one still to be watched.

"McAdoo," they say, "is entirely out of the race. Whatever support he ever had, is now gone, split up among the other candidates. But if McAdoo's name is presented to the convention—"

The convention follows a long argument on why McAdoo cannot win proving he is still very much feared by other aspirants.

The general belief here, four days since the McAdoo-Shouse telegram, is that McAdoo's name will be presented to the Democratic convention here and will be voted on. As to what will happen then, opinion is divided.

Some declare that after the first ballot or two when McAdoo will receive a complimentary and scattering vote, his name will disappear. Others say along about the eighth ballot or so, McAdoo will be put across with a rush, just as Senator Harding was in Chicago.

A clever piece of political maneuvering—that is what the latter school calls McAdoo's telegram refusing consent to his being placed in nomination.

Whichever is right, the delegates arriving here admit they are confused. There has been some talk of possible steamroller tactics.

"Any attempt to control this convention," Senator Robert L. Owen, himself a candidate, declared, "would react. It would prove a boomerang. No such attempt will be made."

Young Giants Lose.

The Young Giants again fell victims of the mighty stick work and clever pitching of the Young Tots when they were defeated by the latter by a score of 4 to 0.

Ball Game Tonight.

A game of baseball will be played tonight at Forsyth Park when the Jolly Six Club and the Flick nine meet.

CHILD WELFARE CLINIC THURSDAY

The first child welfare clinic planned for the assistance of Kingston mothers by Miss Florence McEntee, who has just commenced her work here under the auspices of the board of health, will be held at the child welfare station on the first floor of the city hall Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. A clinic will be held every Thursday afternoon during the summer months.

The purpose of holding these clinics will be to keep the babies well by making available to all the mothers of the community knowledge of the way in which to prevent needless sickness. It is hoped to accomplish this by advising and instructing the mothers in the care and feeding of the babies where artificial feeding is necessary by teaching the proper preparation of food, explaining how to prevent many diseases of childhood due to exposure and errors in diet, and by maintaining a place where mothers may come and get advice. The babies will be weighed and a record kept of their development. Children up to school age may be brought.

LAWATCH BUSY.

Grist Mill and Building Block Plant Both Producing.

Former Charity Commissioner Anthony Lawatch of Summer street, who besides running a grist mill at Rifton, makes building blocks of concrete, is a very busy man these days, but as he believes in production, is happy. He has been an expert miller for a long term of years, having had mills at the Dutch Settlement, at Wilbur, a large one at one time on Broadway near the junction of Albany avenue, and for some time has owned the one at Rifton. During the world war he ground many tons of wheat, rye and corn for the farmers from towns all over the county, which he continues doing. Although he advertised for a large quantity of rye recently, which he wanted to convert into flour for local bakers, he has been unable to get any, which he says is evidence that there is none of that grain being held over.

Mr. Lawatch between making his building blocks in this city and grinding grain at Rifton, often makes two or three trips back and forth in his automobile, carrying out telephone orders. Recently he has turned out concrete blocks for a garage for former Alderman Ralph Mann on Post street near Abel, for a garage for Alton Brothers on Chambers street, and a quantity of white marble finish ones for a foundation for house improvement to the premises of Joseph Southard on Franklin street, near Furnace street. Blocks have also been made for a cottage being erected on the Sangerman road, a few miles from this city, for Contractor Beshler.

AT OLD PARISH.

Father Hall to be Guest of Honor at Holy Cross Entertainment.

Some of the best singers of ballads and popular music in Kingston will take a prominent part in a program arranged for Thursday evening at Holy Cross Hall. Those who will include Tommy Dolan, Mrs. Helen Sears Mann, Miss Ethel Schlecht and George Allen. "The Finest Fellow in High School."

The Cliff Moore is managing the affair and has secured Shurtler's orchestra of five pieces for dance music.

The most enjoyable happening, however, will be the fact that the former rector of Holy Cross, Father Charles Mercer Hall, has told the committee in charge that he will come up from "Rosemount," where he is spending the month of June, for a part of the evening. That means that it will practically be his evening, for his former parishioners and numerous friends will seize this opportunity of greeting him.

JOHN BURROUGHS'S
WOODCHUCK COAT

John Burroughs, the famous naturalist, went down from his home in West Park and exhibited one of his choicest possessions to the people of Highland, in the form of a fur coat made entirely of woodchuck pelts. Mr. Burroughs procured the jackets of the woodchucks near his home in the mountains. The coat is very handsome and is one of three-quarters length. One feature that adds to its beauty is the belt of a black woodchuck which is used in making up the collar.

The coat is an object of interest to many who are familiar with the woodchuck, but who had never before thought of utilizing it for making a fur coat.

The Original Budget.

The word "budget" was originally the name of the leather socket in which the cavalry used to rest the butt of their carbines. It also means a small wallet or purse. It became associated with the annual financial statement of the chancellor because he took the statement he was about to make from his case. The word was highly objected to at the time, but is stuck.
